SITUATION SUMMARY

California Department of Public Health Zika Virus Disease Update

The Medical and Health Coordination Center (MHCC) continues to be activated in response to the Zika Virus Disease (Zika) in order to aggregate and update information from a variety of sources and coordinate response activities across the California Department of Public Health (CDPH).

- CDPH centers and programs are providing information related to their specific activities on a weekly basis. This information is being collected and included in a weekly Public Health and Medical Emergency Function (EF) 08 Situation Report released by the MHCC. The MHCC is managing requests for information from the public, healthcare facilities, and Local Health Departments (LHDs) to ensure responses are timely and accurate.
- Zika is transmitted to people primarily through the bite of an infected Aedes Aegyptus mosquito (also known as yellow fever mosquitoes) and Aedes Albopictus mosquito (also known as Asian tiger mosquitoes), which are not native to California. Today, more than 60 countries have documented Zika Virus transmission, with over 40 reporting their first outbreak within recent months. The most common symptoms of Zika Virus are fever, rash, joint pain, and conjunctivitis (red eyes). The illness is usually mild with symptoms lasting for several days to a week after being bitten by an infected mosquito. People do not consistently get sick enough to go to a hospital, and rarely die from Zika Virus. For this reason, many people might not realize they have been infected. However, Zika Virus infection during pregnancy can cause a serious birth defect called microcephaly, as well as other severe fetal brain defects.
- The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, (CDC), CDPH, Emergency Medical Services Authority (EMSA), California Governor's Office of Emergency Services (Cal OES), State level EF 08 partners, are preparing for the management of Zika cases in California. Reporting of select notifiable diseases is mandated by State law in California through Title 17 California Code of Regulations and Zika Virus is now a notifiable disease that must be reported.
- CDPH is working with the healthcare community and local health jurisdictions to identify potential suspect cases and avoid spread of the disease. New and updated guidelines released by CDC are posted on the CDPH website available at: <http://www.cdph.ca.gov/HealthInfo/discond/Pages/Zika.aspx>. CDPH and local health jurisdictions are monitoring the situation closely to keep the public safe.
- EMSA and the EMSA Duty Officer Program are monitoring the situation to remain in communication with the Regional Disaster Medical Health Specialists (RDMHS) and Medical Health Operational Area Coordinator (MHOAC) Programs.
- Please see attached for full report.

California Department of Public Health Heat Event Executive Summary

- The MHCC is activated in response to forecasts of excessive heat for this week, especially in Southern California.
- CDPH is collecting and monitoring Heat Event impacts to Licensing and Certification (L&C) regulated health care facilities, skilled nursing facilities, intermediate care facilities and local cooling centers, and distributing the information to the appropriate EF-08 Partners.
- EMSA is maintaining contact with Cal OES, CDPH, and RDMHS to monitor excessive heat issues related to medical/health issues.

SITUATION SUMMARY

Cal OES Coastal Region

Resolution, Hoopa Valley Tribe

- A Resolution has been received from the Hoopa Valley Tribe regarding a rat infestation at Ray's Food Place; the infestation presents an eminent threat to public health and safety, and its closure will cause hardship as the establishment is the only grocery store within the community. The Cal OES Coastal Region Administrator (RA) and Deputy RA are aware of the situation and have been invited to the Hoopa Valley Tribe tomorrow, 06/23/16 at 1300 for a meeting with regards to this circumstance.

ALNOT – Plane Crash, Clear Lake CA

- On 06/21/16 at 2200 hours, AFRCC advised of an ALNOT in Lake County. Oakland Air Traffic Control received a distress signal on an emergency channel. The Oakland Tower was able to obtain a fix and requested a CHP Helicopter to check the location. About the same time, Lake County Sheriff received a report of an explosion and grass fire at a residence in Clear Lake Ca. Investigating deputies, and the CHP Helicopter, located a crashed air plane. The pilot, sole occupant, was able to get out of the plane but was severely injured. Warning Center, AFRCC and Oakland Tower updated. No further action.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

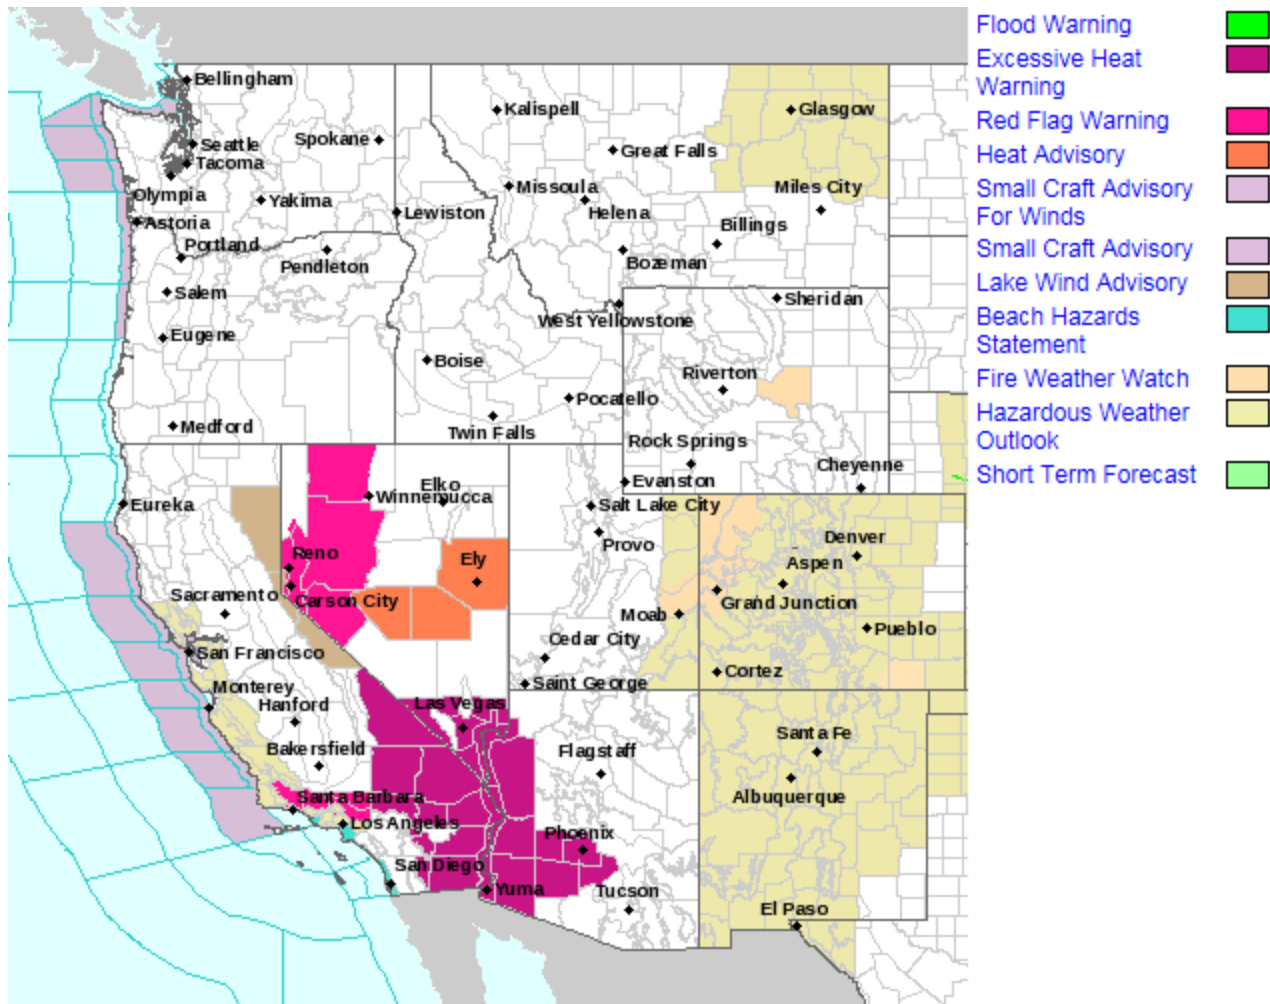

A series of troughs will move into the Pacific Northwest during the next few days which will help to weaken the ridge of high pressure over the Desert Southwest. As a result, cooler weather can be expected across the region through at least Thursday as onshore flow strengthens throughout the district. Areas of night and morning low clouds and fog will return to the coastal areas during the next few days with only partial afternoon clearing along the immediate coast. Daytime highs will be in the 90s to near 100 in the inland valleys, 80s to near 90 in the mountains, and around 112 across the lower and eastern deserts. Humidity values will be in the single digits and teens across the interior areas of the central coast as well as over the deserts. Elsewhere minimum humidity values will be in the 20-35% range except for some teens in the mountains. Winds will be southwest to northwest 10 to 18 mph across the coastal and valley areas during the afternoon and evening hours with speeds of 15 to 30 mph across the Antelope Valley, the Tehachapi Range, and the Banning Pass during the next few days. Surface pressure gradients will turn offshore towards the end of the work week with gusty northerly winds developing once again across the Santa Ynez Mountains eastward into the I-5 Corridor area Thursday night through Saturday morning. The strongest winds during this period are expected to occur Friday evening through early Saturday morning. In addition, some valley areas of Ventura and Western Los Angeles County could see some breezy northeast winds developing by Saturday morning. High pressure over the Desert Southwest will begin to build westward into California later in the weekend and into most of next week. This will mark the beginning of another heat wave across the region, although temperatures will not be quite as extreme as compared to this previous hot spell.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

A weak easterly wave southwest of San Diego this morning will slowly dissipate during the next 24 hours, but in the meantime it will help produce a few clouds across the southern portions of the state today. Meanwhile, a series of troughs will move into the Pacific Northwest during the next few days which will help to weaken the ridge of high pressure over the Desert Southwest. As a result, cooler weather can be expected across the region through at least Thursday as onshore flow strengthens throughout the district. Areas of night and morning low clouds and fog will return to the coastal areas during the next few days with only partial afternoon clearing along the immediate coast. Daytime highs will be in the 90s to near 100 in the inland valleys, 80s to near 90 in the mountains, and around 112 across the lower and eastern deserts.
